Kauai placed in Flash Flood Warning

LĪHU'E – The National Weather Service (NWS) has issued a Flash Flood Warning for the County of Kauai until 9:45 a.m. This warning may need to be extended if flash flooding persists.

A Flash Flood Warning means flash flooding is imminent or occurring in streams, roads and low-lying areas. The public is urged to move to higher ground and away from fast-flowing or rising water.

This warning may need to be extended beyond 9:45 a.m. if flash flooding persists.

The public is advised to monitor local media and the NWS website for the most current weather information: www.weather.gov/hawaii

For updated information on road closures, please call the Police Dispatch weather line at 241-1725. The automated message will be updated as information develops.
